

Artisti d'oggi a Milano - "Quando urge la fantasia"
(Today's Artists in Milan - "When Imagination is Urgent")
LAZZARO Gallery by CORSI - Milan - January 1999

A strong painting style, richly sensual, turgid in the material and its impasto of colours.

The artist from Udine tries to express, in her work, all the urgency of her emotions when faced with the reality that confronts her: the boats on the shore, the nudes laying down, the still life of vases and fruit.

What strikes us is the way colour and shape seem to stretch flexibly the closer one looks at the picture. These are the juices of the colours that, like in the excellent nudes, also draw in the surrounding vegetation, assimilating it to a way of seeing things that becomes a way of feeling things. Everything ferments, vibrates, melts into a romantic transformation of the world.
